DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed on February 27, 2007 have been fully considered.

With respect to amended and new Claims, applicant primarily argues that Anderson et al. (U.S. Patent 5,974,453) does not anticipate “acquiring a security code”, “receiving media containing said security code from said first communication device” and translating said security code to an IP address corresponding to said second communication device” (see remarks pages 13 – page 21). These arguments are not persuasive.

Instant application specification discloses “security code” as “security information may be a one-time certificate and security information may comprise a device ID, a public key, a code...” (Paragraph 0042) and “PIN may be obtained via telephone number associated with the media” (Paragraph 0061).

Examiner now points out that the admitted prior art Anderson, in fact, discloses, “dynamically assigned IP address and the static identifier (Patent’s telephone number corresponding to PIN of the instant claims) ...” and in particular Anderson discloses translating static identifier (PIN) corresponding to an IP address (dynamically assigning Internet address) at the same provides flexibility to use the telephone number to create dynamic IP address (Column 3 line 20 – Column 8 line 63)

Therefore, the examiner respectfully asserts that the cited prior art does teach or suggest the subject matter broadly recited in amended and new independent claims. The dependent claims are rejected at least by virtue of their dependency on the dependent claims. Accordingly, the rejection for the pending claims is respectfully maintained.

Examiner suggests applicant to amend the claims in a manner to distinct applicant's invention with prior art with attention given to the specification paragraphs [0066 – 0067 and 0107 – 0109].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

4. Claims 1 – 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Anderson et al. (U.S. Patent 5,974,453).

5. As per Claims 1, 5 and 9, Anderson teaches, “acquiring a security code from a second communication device by a first communication device (Column 3 lines 20 – 28);

receiving media containing said security code from said first communication device (Column 3 lines 29 – 41);

translating said security code to an IP address corresponding to said second communication device (Column 4 lines 28 – 34); and routing said received media to said second communication device based on said IP address of said second communication device, said IP address of said second communication device remaining anonymous to said first communication device.” (Column 4 lines 28 – 34 and Column 6 line 57 – Column 7 line 4).

Art Unit: 2136

6. As per Claims 14, 20 and 26, Anderson teaches, “receiving a security code from a first communication device desiring to communicate with a second communication device;

transferring security information associated with said second communication device to said first communication device (Column 7 lines 21 – 46);

receiving media along with at least a portion of said transferred security information from said first communication device (Column 7 lines 21 – 64); and if said security information from said first communication device is valid, transferring said media from said first communication device to said second communication device.” (Column 7 lines 21 – 64).

7. As per Claims 2, 6, 10, 16, 22 and 28, Anderson teaches, “security code is a pin code” (Column 5 lines 25 – 47).

8. As per Claims 3, 7 and 11, Anderson teaches, “limiting a duration for which said security code is valid to at least one of time and a number of uses” (Column 4 lines 28 – 43).

9. As per Claims 4, 8, 12, 17, 23 and 29, Anderson teaches, “obtaining said acquired security code out-of-band” (Column 3 lines 29 – 41).

10. As per Claims 15, 21 and 27, Anderson teaches, “security information is a one-time certificate” (Column 7 lines 21 – 27).

11. As per Claims 18, 24 and 30, Anderson teaches, “temporarily storing said received media until said security information received from said first communication device is validated” (Column 4 lines 28 – 34).

Art Unit: 2136

12. As per Claims 19, 25 and 31, Anderson teaches, "translating said at least a portion of said transferred security information received from said first communication device into an IP address of said second device, said transferring of said media from said first communication device to said second communication device utilizing said IP address of said second device, said IP address of said second communication device remaining anonymous to said first communication device" (Column 4 lines 44 – 61).

13. As per Claims 13 and 32, Anderson teaches, "at least one processor is at least one of a server, a media exchange server and a proxy server" (Column 4 lines 11 – 27).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
